Link to my old company site called Silverback Multimedia – it was originally a concept for gathering my portfolio of various mediums into one place and grew into a full fledge media firm over the years...it was sold to my current employer quite a few years ago. It is a flash-based site that was pretty kick butt when flash was big...it showcases some of my other areas of proficiency...painting, illustration, photography...etc. Be gentle on the site – it has not been touched since being sold so a lot of the links, sites etc are broken or outdated. You can check it out here:

I truly appreciate your time in looking at my work and details...and appreciate the consideration for being part of your team.

Sincerely,
